Pandemic or not, businesses are making a strategic move to implement secure mobile workforce solutions. This approach promotes a healthy work environment, increases employee productivity, and reduces corporate carbon footprints.

OUR SERVICE

The SecureWatch™ Remote Access Solution is a hosted service which allows authorized mobile workers to securely access their corporate networks through a web browser. This service permits users to access corporate resources from any type of device and integrates seamlessly with Windows, MAC & Linux environments.

Also included in the service is a Secure Meeting feature which enables communication between virtual teams by sharing applications in real-time. This easy to use 'point and click' Web conferencing tool does not require additional software and can integrate with Microsoft Outlook.

For businesses that require additional security measures, End to End Networks offers the following value-add options:

Client Policy Enforcement

Checks remote user machines prior to remote access connectivity to ensure virus & software definitions are up to date and in line with corporate compliance policies

Remote Access Accounting

Tracks remote user connections and length of connections when acquiring access to the corporate network for auditing and cost allocation

Service demos are available. Please contact an End to End sales representative for more information.
